The Special Master has informed the Court that there may be a need to clarify the “New Requirements” section of the Court’s July 17, 2012 Order. This Order will do so.

- The Report that the Special Master shall file on or before August 28, 2012 shall contain a complete description of Phase One of the Implementation Plan, including the necessary and key details that assure full implementation of ICC and IHBS. The September 14, 2012 hearing will include discussion about those provisions. The December 13, 2012 hearing will include discussion about the progress of the efforts to implement those provisions.

- As for Phase Two, the Special Master’s Report to be filed by August 28, 2012 shall describe what is then contemplated for Phase Two - - the framework and expectations, the anticipated timelines, etc. - - but that Report need not contain the final or completed Phase Two Implementation Plan. At the September 14th hearing, any discussion about Phase Two will be meant to assure an understanding of what will be necessary to complete an Implementation Plan for Phase Two by December 13, 2012.

- The Court’s reference to the lawyers representing the State Defendants was in no way meant to disparage the beleaguered state officials who also are striving hard to comply with the Settlement Plan.
