SUBJECT: CERTIFICATES OF CREDITABLE COVERAGE UNDER THE HEALTH INSURANCE PORTABILITY AND ACCOUNTABILITY ACT OF 1996

PURPOSE

The goal of this letter is to establish a Medi-Cal health plan policy regarding the issuance of certificates of creditable coverage under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (42 Code of Federal Regulations, Subchapter XXV, Section 300gg-92).

BACKGROUND

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) which was enacted August 21, 1996, is also known as the Kennedy-Kassebaum bill. Generally, HIPAA limits the length of a pre-existing medical condition exclusion to 12-month maximum (the look-forward rule), increases the portability of health insurance coverage statewide (group-to-group and group-to-individual), and reduces the waiting time established by a new health plan or insurer. The portability provision enables people enrolled in a health plan with a pre-waiting period or a pre-existing condition exclusion, to reduce that waiting period or exclusion time by using the coverage time obtained from their former health plan or insurer. This previous coverage time is reported on a certificate of creditable coverage. In addition to other health insurers (i.e., Health Maintenance Organizations, Preferred Provider Organizations, Indemnity Plan's, Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act, and Medicare), the HIPAA identified Medicaid (Medi-Cal in California) as the responsible agency for issuing certificates of creditable coverage.

POLICY

Medi-Cal managed care health plans are not responsible for issuing Medi-Cal certificates of creditable coverage to Medi-Cal recipients under HIPAA. Medi-Cal members requesting a certificate of creditable coverage from a managed care health plan must be referred to their local county welfare office to obtain the certificate.

DISCUSSION

Within the Medicaid program, the Department of Health Services is the lead agency responsible for issuing the certificates of creditable coverage to Medi-Cal recipients. Within the agency, the contracting managed care health plans are regarded as the providers of Medi-Cal health care. The Department will soon be automating the issuance of certificates of creditable coverage through the Medi-Cal Eligibility Data System (MEDS). Meanwhile, until the process is fully automated on MEDS, the Department has delegated the responsibility for issuing the certificates to the county welfare offices. The county welfare directors were provided with the Department's written instructions on October 6, 1997, which included the HIPAA issuance guidelines. The county welfare office will provide the certificate of creditable coverage to a person whose Medi-Cal benefits have ended or to a Medi-Cal eligible member who requests the certificate of creditable coverage in writing.
