Treatment of Income and Property

In households where there is an MFBU which contains a caretaker relative and related children and the spouse or children of the caretaker either do not wish Medi-Cal or receive public assistance (PA) or other PA and do not appear in any MFBU, no income or property of the caretaker's spouse or own children is counted other than income which is actually contributed to the MFBU. No income or property allocation is made to either the spouse or the caretaker's own children by the caretaker or vice versa.

If the caretaker relative is in two MFBUs, consider the caretaker relative's full income in both and allow his/her medical expenses to be used to meet the share of cost in both MFBUs as specified in Section 50379.

If an MFBU which contains a caretaker relative and related children has excess property or a share of cost, follow existing Sneede v. Kizer procedures.
